365th Fighter Group visits Chièvres Air Base

A group of 22 people associated with World War II's 365th Fighter Group will visit Chièvres Air Base Aug. 9. Two "Hell Hawks" veterans — one of whom was stationed in Chièvres in early October 1944 — will share their WWII experiences. The group will arrive at Chièvres Air Base's Hangar 1 at about 2 p.m. All airmen, Soldiers, U.S. and host-nation civilians are invited to attend. For more information, contact the USAG Benelux Public Affairs Office at DSN 361-5419 or civilian 068-275419.

Gate closure on Chièvres

The only access to Chièvres Air Base is currently Gate 14. However, Aug. 3 at 11:59 p.m., the main gate will reopen, and Gate 14 will return to its regular hours of weekdays from 6:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Alterations Shop closes

The Chièvres Alterations Shop, located inside the PXtra, will be closing Aug. 14. Army and Air Force Exchange Service, or AAFES, is seeking a replacement.

'Team Souffit' takes home Hungry Monday trophy

Sgt. 1st Class Brian Letterle heads to the end zone during the inaugural Hungry Monday Flag-Football Tournament on Chièvres football field July 28. Letterle works for USAG Benelux. This Army-Air Force friendly competition was hosted by the Air Force's 424th Air Base Squadron. Six-member teams (open to all service members, U.S. government and host-nation civilian employees, and family members) allowed more teams to compete until "Team Souffit," the 424th ABS's Security Forces Team, earned bragging rights and a first-place trophy. The 424th ABS named the tourney "Hungry Monday" because the Commissary and most of the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, or AAFES, locations on Chièvres Air Base are closed Mondays, which makes finding lunch a challenge. The 424th Air Base Squadron's Chièvres Family Organization (equivalent to a family readiness group) solved that problem by selling barbecue fare at its on-site fund-raiser. Operation Atlantic Resolve validates US presence in Europe

by Lt. Gen. Donald Campbell
 Commanding General, U.S. Army Europe

Over the last few months, the great Soldiers and civilians of U.S. Army Europe have executed and supported what is now known as Operation Atlantic Resolve. Originally identified as "Persistent Presence," this operation clearly demonstrates the value of why we maintain U.S. forces in Europe.

USAREUR is currently conducting multi-national battalion- and company-level training, expeditionary sustainment and planning future bilateral training opportunities in Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland. The speed and success with which USAREUR performed these actions were made possible only by the trust and relationships we have built with our allies through years of training and interacting together in Europe.

As the Army Service Component Command (ASCC) of U.S. European Command, we have a unique ability to leverage friendships built during more than 1,000 security cooperation events and exercises every year. A perfect example of this is how the mission in support of Operation Atlantic Resolve developed; our relationships with the countries affected allowed our team to set the initial conditions that facilitated our Soldiers' ability to arrive rapidly and begin training immediately.

These relationships are a direct result of having a permanent presence in Europe. The foundation of trust we have built allowed us to gain access to key leaders in the affected region and respond in a timely manner when every second was critical to providing our friends the assurance they so desired.

This operation is a demonstration of our nation's unwavering commitment to our partners and allies, and it is a direct result of personal relationships developed throughout the years.

We will continue to provide the support and assurance that our partners and allies both need and deserve through Operation Atlantic Resolve and other training events and exercises.

I want to thank the Soldiers, civilians and families of U.S. Army Europe for their dedication to duty and true professionalism during this important and critical time. As always, your selfless service is apparent every day, and I am proud to be a member of this fine organization.

School open house showcases new facilities

Special to the Gazette

Richard Deaner, DoDDS-Europe project engineer

Students and staff of the SHAPE American Elementary School and Middle School will begin the school year Aug. 18 in brand-new school buildings that have been under construction since 2012.

Parents and students of the SHAPE International School community can get a firsthand look at the new facilities at an open house of the schools, which are sections of the SHAPE International School, Aug. 15 from 2 to 4 p.m.

These new facilities (at the corner of Avenue D'Ankara and Avenue de Vilnius) represent a significant achievement and first step in the SHAPE community's modernization of all national school sections operating at the SHAPE International School. The modernization and ongoing construction of world-class schools on SHAPE will continue through 2019.

"The safety of the SHAPE community, especially our children, remains our top priority," according to Paul Jerome of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, who is the SHAPE International School infrastructure program manager. "Construction will continue adjacent to the new U.S. sections. The construction areas will be properly marked and fenced off so children, parents and teachers remain safe. Respecting the ongoing work in these areas will be especially critical when students are dropped off and picked up by buses or cars."

Parents should drop children off and pick them up at the SHAPE Chapel lot or the Carrefour shopping center parking lot as well as instruct children to use designated walking paths.

"Despite ongoing construction, make no mistake; the quality of education at SHAPE International School will not be compromised," Jerome said. "Educating our children in the new facilities is something we have been looking forward to for a long time. The features of the schools will be obvious as soon as you walk into the buildings."

The 114,057-square-foot elementary school contains 58 classrooms and the 93,227-square-foot middle school contains 44 classrooms. The building features a mix of general-purpose, art, science, music and computer rooms, plus a media center. Two new gyms and a multipurpose room provide communal space in the facility. A common play area located in the heart of the campus will be shared by all students.

These spaces were designed to encourage the socialization and interaction among students from all nations represented at SHAPE, Jerome said.

The schools boast state-of-the-art information-technology systems. Interactive whiteboards are fully integrated into the school-wide data network, a video/broadcast studio is housed in the new middle school, and electronic locks are installed throughout both schools. Voice-over-Internet Protocol-supported digital services and high-speed wireless internet will also enhance communication capabilities for educators and students.

A new multipurpose room joins the schools. It features a food-service area for lunches and a stage with a light-and-sound system for creative pursuits.

To serve the students' athletic and musical interests, the schools have two new gymnasiums with locker rooms — one with spectator seating, extensive outdoor athletic and play areas, outdoor learning areas and technologically advanced band rooms.

Security is also incorporated into the building design with the implementation of modern force-protection standards, including proper stand-off distance, raised curbs and bollards, which are short posts used to exclude vehicles.

The state-of-the-art campus design integrates sustainability concepts that meet Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design, or LEED, silver certification. A key environmental feature of the schools is an extensive "green" roof that naturally moderates temperature in hot and cold weather and minimizes storm water runoff. Other sustainable features include efficient lighting and high-performing mechanical, heating and ventilation systems. LEED is a building-certification program that recognizes best-in-class environmentally sound building strategies and practices.

"The project team continues to work hard to ensure we deliver first-class facilities to the SHAPE community," Jerome said. "We can't wait to see these new schools filled with students on the first day of school!"

For details on the new schools, call DSN 423-5718 or civilian 065-445718, or the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers at DSN 423-3987 or civilian 065-443987.

College across Benelux: Choose by degree, major

Four colleges offer degree/certification programs in the Benelux through the Tri-Services Contract, which serves the Army, Navy and Air Force so there isn't any overlap in these programs. The listing below covers TSC curricula. Contact the school of your choice for more options.

When a Soldier is logged on to the GoArmyEd (GAE) portal at <https://www.goarmyed.com/> and is looking at a college or university to attend, the GAE portal has a link at bottom of the home page (under "Earn a Degree or Credential") called "Schools and Programs," according to Ralph Bremer of the Benelux Army Education Center at SHAPE.

Using these options on the GoArmyEd portal allows students to conveniently research schools by conducting a "Search Schools" or "Search Degrees" to compare schools. Many of the schools listed have links to prices for undergraduate and graduate semester hour rates, he said.

Certificate programs

Central Texas College: Vocational/technical, or VoTech, programs — Certificates of Completion in child development, criminal justice, fire science and hospitality management.

Locations: AFNORTH Education Center on Schinnen and SHAPE Education Center.

Trenches to FoxholesNext week in World War history (Aug. 3 to 9)*World War I*1914

Aug. 3 - Belgium refuses Germany's request for free passage of its army through Belgium.

Aug. 4 - The German 1st, 2nd and 3rd Armies — 34 divisions of men — align themselves on the right wing of the German lines so that they are poised to move into Belgium. In total, seven German armies, with a total of 1.5 million soldiers, are assembled along the Belgian and French frontiers.

- Great Britain declares war on Germany at 11 p.m.

Aug. 5 - The German army launches its assault on the city of Liège, Belgium, violating Belgium's neutrality and beginning the first battle of World War I.

Aug. 6 - Hungary declares war on Russia. Serbia declares war on Germany.

Aug. 7 - French troops launch their first attack of World War I, advancing toward the city of Mulhouse, located near the Swiss border in Alsace, a former French province lost to Germany in the settlement ending the Franco-Prussian War in 1871.

Aug. 8 - Great Britain enacts the Defense of the Realm Act (granting unprecedented powers to the government to control the economy and daily life).

Aug. 9 - German Minister of War Erich von Falkenhayn puts Walter Rathenau of the large electronics firm Allgemeine-Elektrizitäts-Gesellschaft in charge of organizing all the raw materials for Germany's war production.

Aug. 6 - In Turkey, the Battle of Sari Bair begins. The battle is timed to coincide with a further major Allied landing of troop reinforcements at Suvla Bay on the Aegean coastline north of Anzac Cove. The battle forms part of Allied Mediterranean Commander in Chief Sir Ian Hamilton's three-plank Suvla Offensive.

1916

Aug. 6 - The Battle of Gorizia, Italy (6th Battle of the Isonzo), begins with what is intended to be a diversionary artillery barrage and an infantry feint by units of two corps against Monfalcone to the south. The fighting gets out of control, though, resulting in more than five days of tough combat.

1917

Aug. 5 - Richard von Kuhlmann is appointed German Foreign Minister.

Aug. 6 - Aleksander Fyodorovich Kerensky is appointed Prime Minister of Russia.

1918

Aug. 8 - Germans in the Somme experience the "Black Day of the German Army" as later described by German Gen. Erich Ludendorff. This occurs as the British 4th Army, using 456 tanks, attacks German positions east of Amiens. Six German divisions quickly fall apart, and 13,000 prisoners are taken during the rapid 7-mile advance. The attack is only slowed when the Germans rush in nine divisions, their last reserves on the Western Front.

World War II1940

Aug. 3 - Italy begins its offensive against the British colony of Somaliland, in East Africa, a territory contiguous with Italian Somaliland.

Italy had occupied parts of East Africa since 1936 and by 1940, when it officially entered the war, had troops far outnumbering British forces in the region. Despite their numerical superiority, the Italians had been slow to make offensive moves for fear that the British blockade in North Africa would make it impossible to get much-needed supplies, such as fuel and weapons, to sustain long engagements. But if Italy were to make greater territorial gains, it would have to act while British numbers were still relatively small.

Aug. 6 - The first German strategic reports on progress in Russia claim that Germany has taken nearly 900,000 prisoners and destroyed or captured 13,100 tanks; 9,100 aircraft; and more than 10,000 heavy guns.

- U.S. Navy aircraft based in Reykjavik, Iceland, begins routine patrols of the North Atlantic.

Aug. 7 - The U.S. 1st Marine Division begins Operation Watchtower, the first U.S. offensive of the war, by landing on Guadalcanal, one of the Solomon Islands.

1943

Aug. 5 - U.S. Navy Adm. Raymond Spruance, formerly the chief of staff of the commander in chief of the Pacific Ocean Area, is named the commanding officer of the Central Pacific Area and the commanding officer of the Fifth Fleet.

Aug. 6 - Two divisions of U.S. Marine Corps squadron VMF-214 and two divisions of VMF-221 escort a P-38 reconnaissance aircraft over the Shortland Islands. The 16 Corsair fighters shoot down five Japanese aircraft, losing one.

Aug. 4 - A German-born Jewish girl and her family, who had been hiding in German-occupied Holland, are found by the Gestapo and transported to various concentration camps. The young girl's diary of her time in hiding was found after her death and published.

Aug. 5 - Polish insurgents liberate a German forced-labor camp in Warsaw, freeing 348 Jewish prisoners, who join in a general uprising against the German occupiers of the city.

Aug. 8 - The Soviet Union officially declares war on Japan, pouring more than 1 million Soviet soldiers into Japanese-occupied Manchuria, northeastern China, to take on the 700,000-strong Japanese army.

Aug. 9 - A second atom bomb is dropped on Japan by the United States, at Nagasaki, resulting in Japan's unconditional surrender. The devastation wrought at Hiroshima wasn't sufficient to convince the Japanese War Council to accept the Potsdam Conference's demand for unconditional surrender.

Authorities crack down on texting, calling while driving

Belgian VRT TV News reports that the Belgian Road Safety Institute is launching a large-scale campaign today to dissuade motorists from using their mobile phones while driving, according to the director of USAG Benelux Emergency Services, Kenneth J. Hughes.

Motorists caught using a mobile phone that isn't hands-free while driving in Belgium risk a fine of 110 euros, Hughes said.

A recent survey revealed that half of all drivers in Belgium have read a text message while behind the wheel, while a third of motorists admitted to sending a text while driving, the director of USAG Benelux Emergency Services said.

Fun under sun: Stay cool, beat summer heat

Many people enjoy the summer weather. However, heat-related illness can pose a risk when temperatures rise, according to the National Safety Council website at <https://www.nsc.org>. It is important to keep hydrated and rest frequently in shaded areas when in the heat.

Alcohol and caffeine are diuretics and can contribute to dehydration and heat exhaustion. Instead of consuming these beverages, you should stay hydrated with adequate amounts of water or sports drinks.

Drinking alcohol in the heat also can impact your judgment. The more alcohol you consume, the harder it is for you to recognize whether you might have a heat-related illness.

The combination of alcohol and heat poses especially serious health risks for older adults and individuals with medical conditions, such as diabetes or heart disease.

The National Safety Council offers these suggestions to avoid heat-related illness during the summer:

- Stay hydrated. Drink non-alcoholic or non-caffeinated beverages, such as water or sports drinks.
- If you decide to drink an alcoholic or caffeinated beverage, be sure to drink plenty of water before, during and after.
- If you take any medication regularly, ask your doctor if you need to be extra cautious when outdoors and in the sun and heat.
